Insights into Haveli Design | Jaipur

Enable participant to understand and appreciate the residential architecture of Jaipur. While planning the city, Sawai Jai Singhji had invited people from all over the country to come and settle in Jaipur which included affluent merchants, talented craftsmen, vociferous Brahmins and many other distinctive communities. In order to give them a comfortable and inviting lifestyle, residences were planned, organized and building accommodating the different people; these residences were designed catering to the specific need of different communities while being suited for climatic conditions of Jaipur.
